

DEVEXPERTS

Financial software development
for brokerage and exchanges

dxTrade

dxTrade application is developed for electronic stock, bond, option and futures trading online for individual investors.

The software was created with Adobe Flex/ActionScript technology and is a lightweight UI-application providing the user access to the main trading functions (quotations, orders and different instrument positions etc.).

Product Highlights

Fully functional application

- Quotation analysis module;
- News analysis module;
- Fundamental analysis module;
- Technical analysis module;
- Order and position analysis module;
- Account history study module;
- Market depth analysis module (trade blotter);
- Option board module;
- Order input module;
- Important information display module.

Ergonomic interface

- Minimum efforts for interface setting;
- Comprehensive image display;
- Online data update;
- All screens necessary for trading are «one click» available;
- Different system component interaction;
- Deep components integration.

Product Description

Quotation analysis module

- Integration of different ways of current quotations information review;
- All financial documents are organized into multilevel hierarchy;
- Stocks are classified into industries;
- Symbol lists allowing to sort out quotation tables;
- Possibility to create your own symbol lists;
- Possibility to apply all analysis instruments to your own symbol lists;
- Market borders alerts are integrated into quotation analysis interface.

News analysis module

- News display on stock exchange instrument chart.

Fundamental analysis module

- Visualizes all the necessary information for fundamental evaluation of a financial instrument;
- Closely interacts with other interfaces.

Technical analysis module

- Online tracking of prices change;
- Integration with leading market data suppliers and dxFeed service;
- Historical data analysis;
- Wide range of painting tools;
- Wide range of indicators for data analysis and trend forecast;
- Price change alert setting;
- Detailed reports on each quotation;
- Different variants of graphic data display;
- Convenient tools for chart navigation.

DEVEXPERTS

Financial software development
for brokerage and exchanges

Order and position analysis module

- Single interface indicating the current operating orders, positions and implementation of orders which resulted in these positions;
- Possibility to protect the positions by stop-loss and take-profit orders, emergency position closing.

Account history study module

- Access to all orders and implementations history;
- Possibility to repeat orders and analyze their profitability and loss ratio.

Market depth analysis module (trade blotter)

- Integration with order input tools;
- Comprehensive display of information necessary for decision making
- Visualization of sent order price with regard to the current blotter and the chart both while its preparation and after delivery.

Option board module

- Provision of option price information.

Order input module

- Integration of all application modules.

Important information display module

- Display of the most important information for a trader: major market indexes, the amount of free cash on the account, the number of working orders, the latest data on order execution or the status of the recently sent order etc.;
- Is a way of immediate access to more detailed information (to other platform modules).

